Better Men for Better Times

During the past four years, we have become conscious of the forces at work in the formation of better men. We have, after much deliberation, divided these forces into three sections—the Church, the school, and the home.

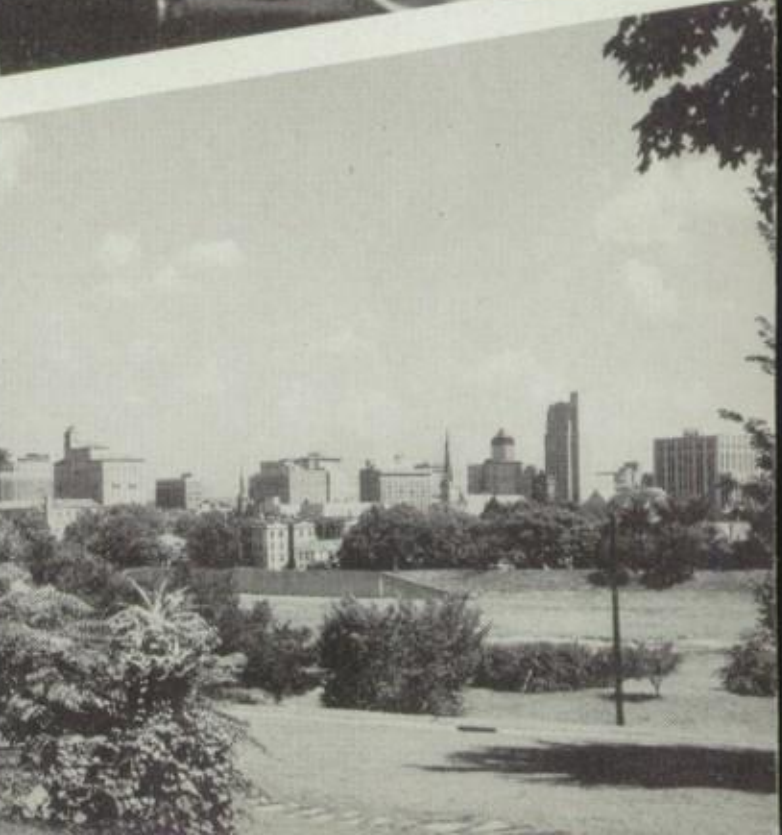

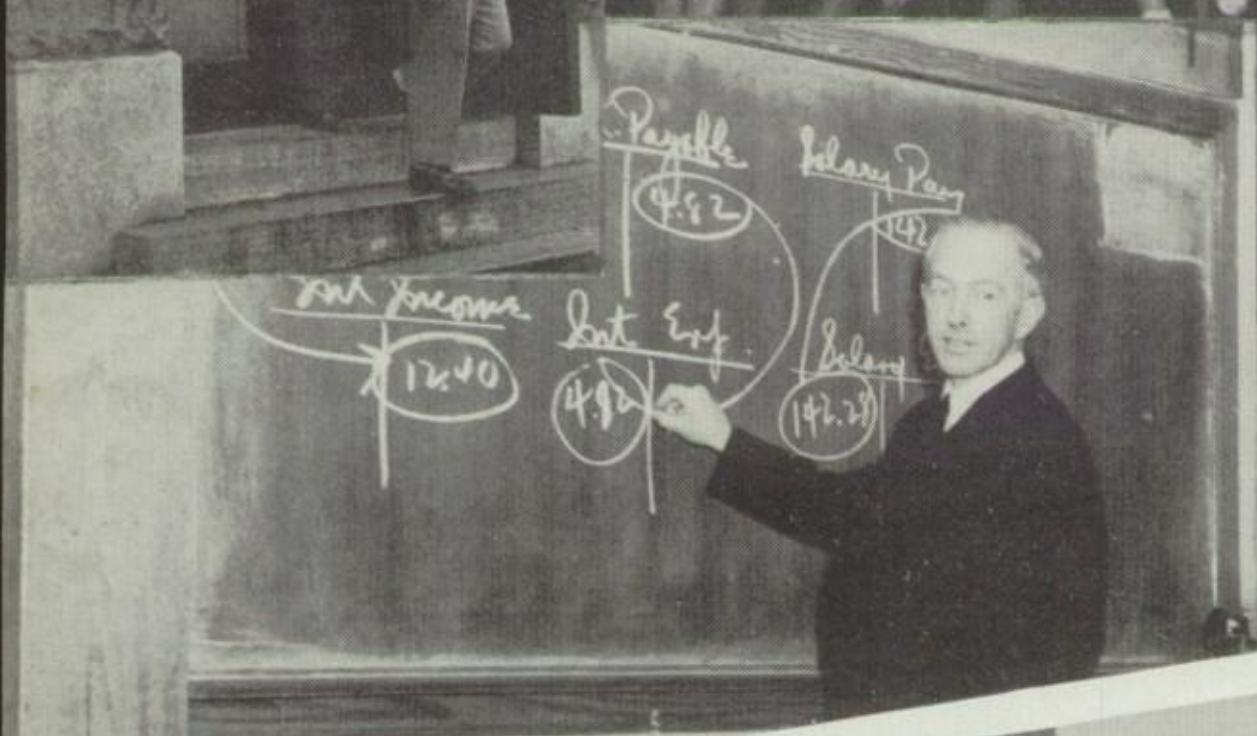

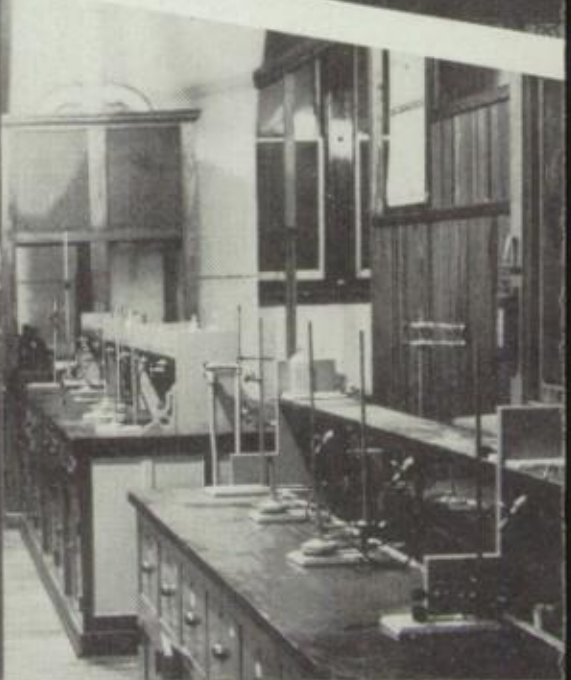

In the Church we include the Sacraments and their administrators, the religious order, which is composed of our teachers, and the effect which the Church has on our lives. Under the heading of School, we place our High School and all the character building activities accompanying it. As for the Home, we include the city and the nation, as well as our individual residences and families.

Finally, we believe that thru the imitation of Christ and His way we can make a better world. We firmly believe that we will attain a better world by following and renewing the Church, by building and aiding the school, and by starting and maintaining the new home.

In this book, we have tried to show, in pictures and in words, what these three molding elements are, how they have formed us, and how we can strengthen them in later years.

You will become aware of this guiding thought when you page thru "The 1946 Eagle", for we have arranged our divisions as . . .

Theme

Church, school, home—
Treasuries of men.
The Church gave Christ
And His way;
The school—knowledge,
Guidance, hope;
The home—true love,
Understanding, happiness.

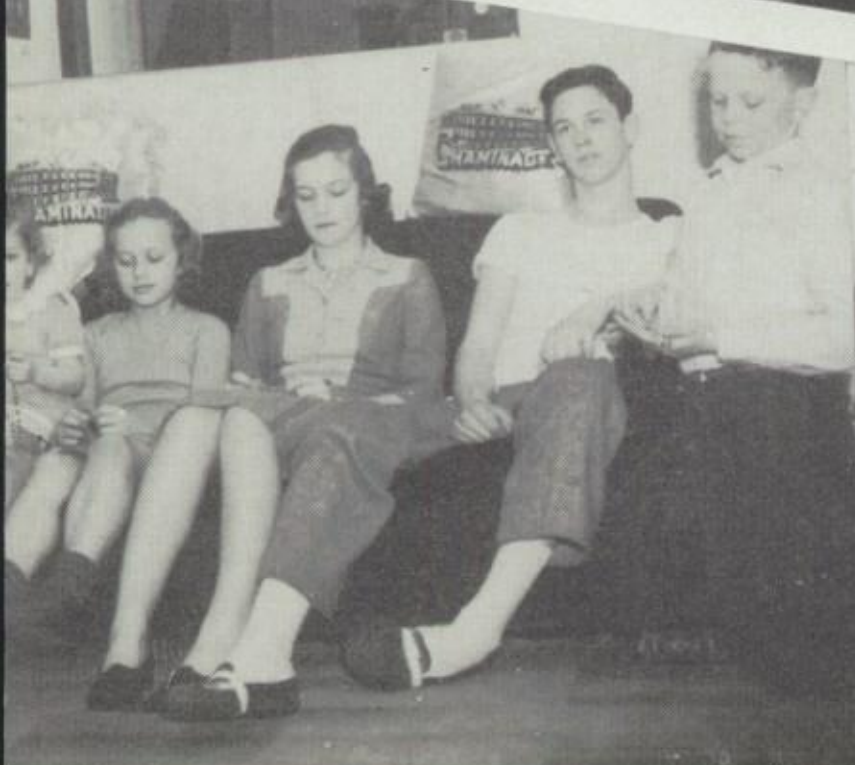

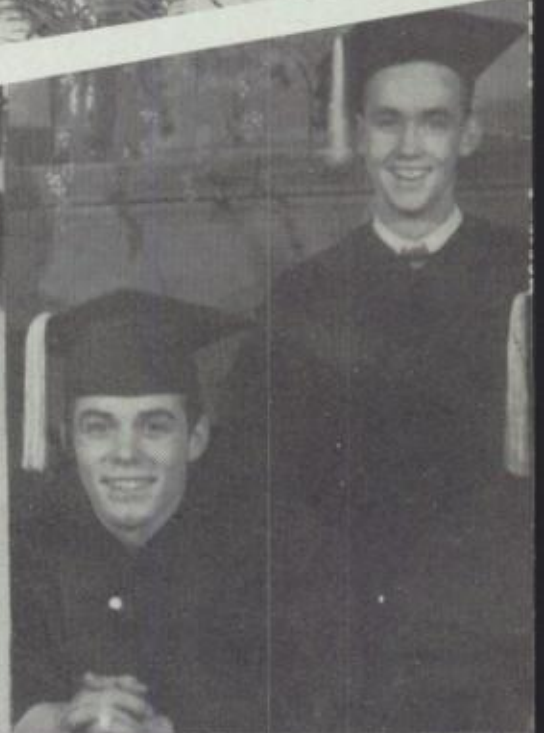

Now we must leave
The home we love,
The school we know.
We have been taught,
We have learned
The lessons well,
That we might go
Into the better world
Of tomorrow . . .

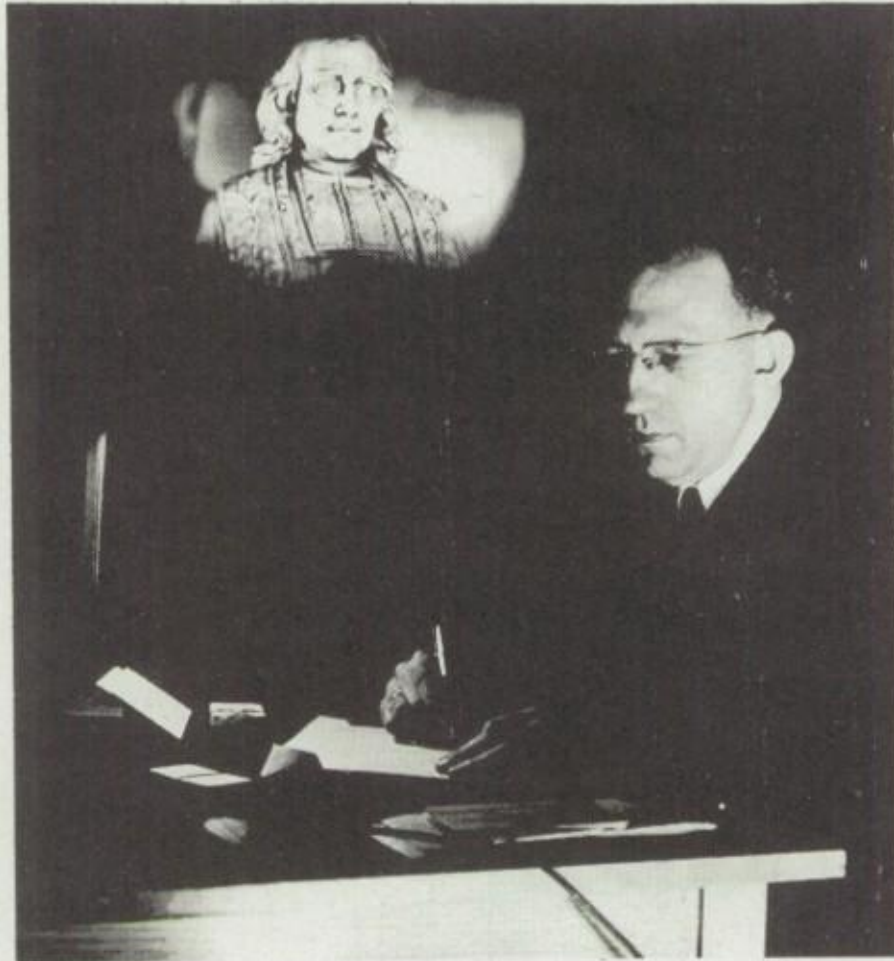

And repay our debt—
 In order that we
 Can do our part
 To strengthen and renew
 The Church;
 To build, to staff, to fill
 Mary's schools;
 To start and to provide for
 The home . . .

To depart is hard—
 To leave to build,
 To strengthen, and begin
 Lessens our distress.
 We go to prove
 Thru the imitation of Christ
 That we are
 The better men
 For better times!

DEDICATION

Leader of the school—
Friend of those who leave—
Counselor of those who come—
To you, our principal,
We dedicate this book.
Four years of your guidance—
Trained in the way of Christ;
Lead by Mary's worker.
Yes, a tribute we give
To him who leaves with us.
To the honor of this man,
Brother Julius May, S. M.,
We dedicate this book.

OUR BROTHER BILL

It was to our sorrow that we were deprived of the presence of Brother William Klueber in the middle of our senior year. It was, however our good fortune to have known him and to have been the recipients of his many kindnesses. To us "Brother Bill", as we affectionately called him, was a friend and a religious who spent himself in the service of the students, the Society of Mary, and God. His was the humble life of a working brother in the Society of Mary, but his fidelity, interest and enthusiasm carried him to a spot in every heart of every Chaminade students that would be a source of envy of those who aspire to a "place in the sun." The following is only one of the many typical remarks passed among the seniors when the news of his sudden departure from our midst reached us "He was a great friend; he could tell us off when we needed it, but never left us without a word of cheer or a word of encouragement."

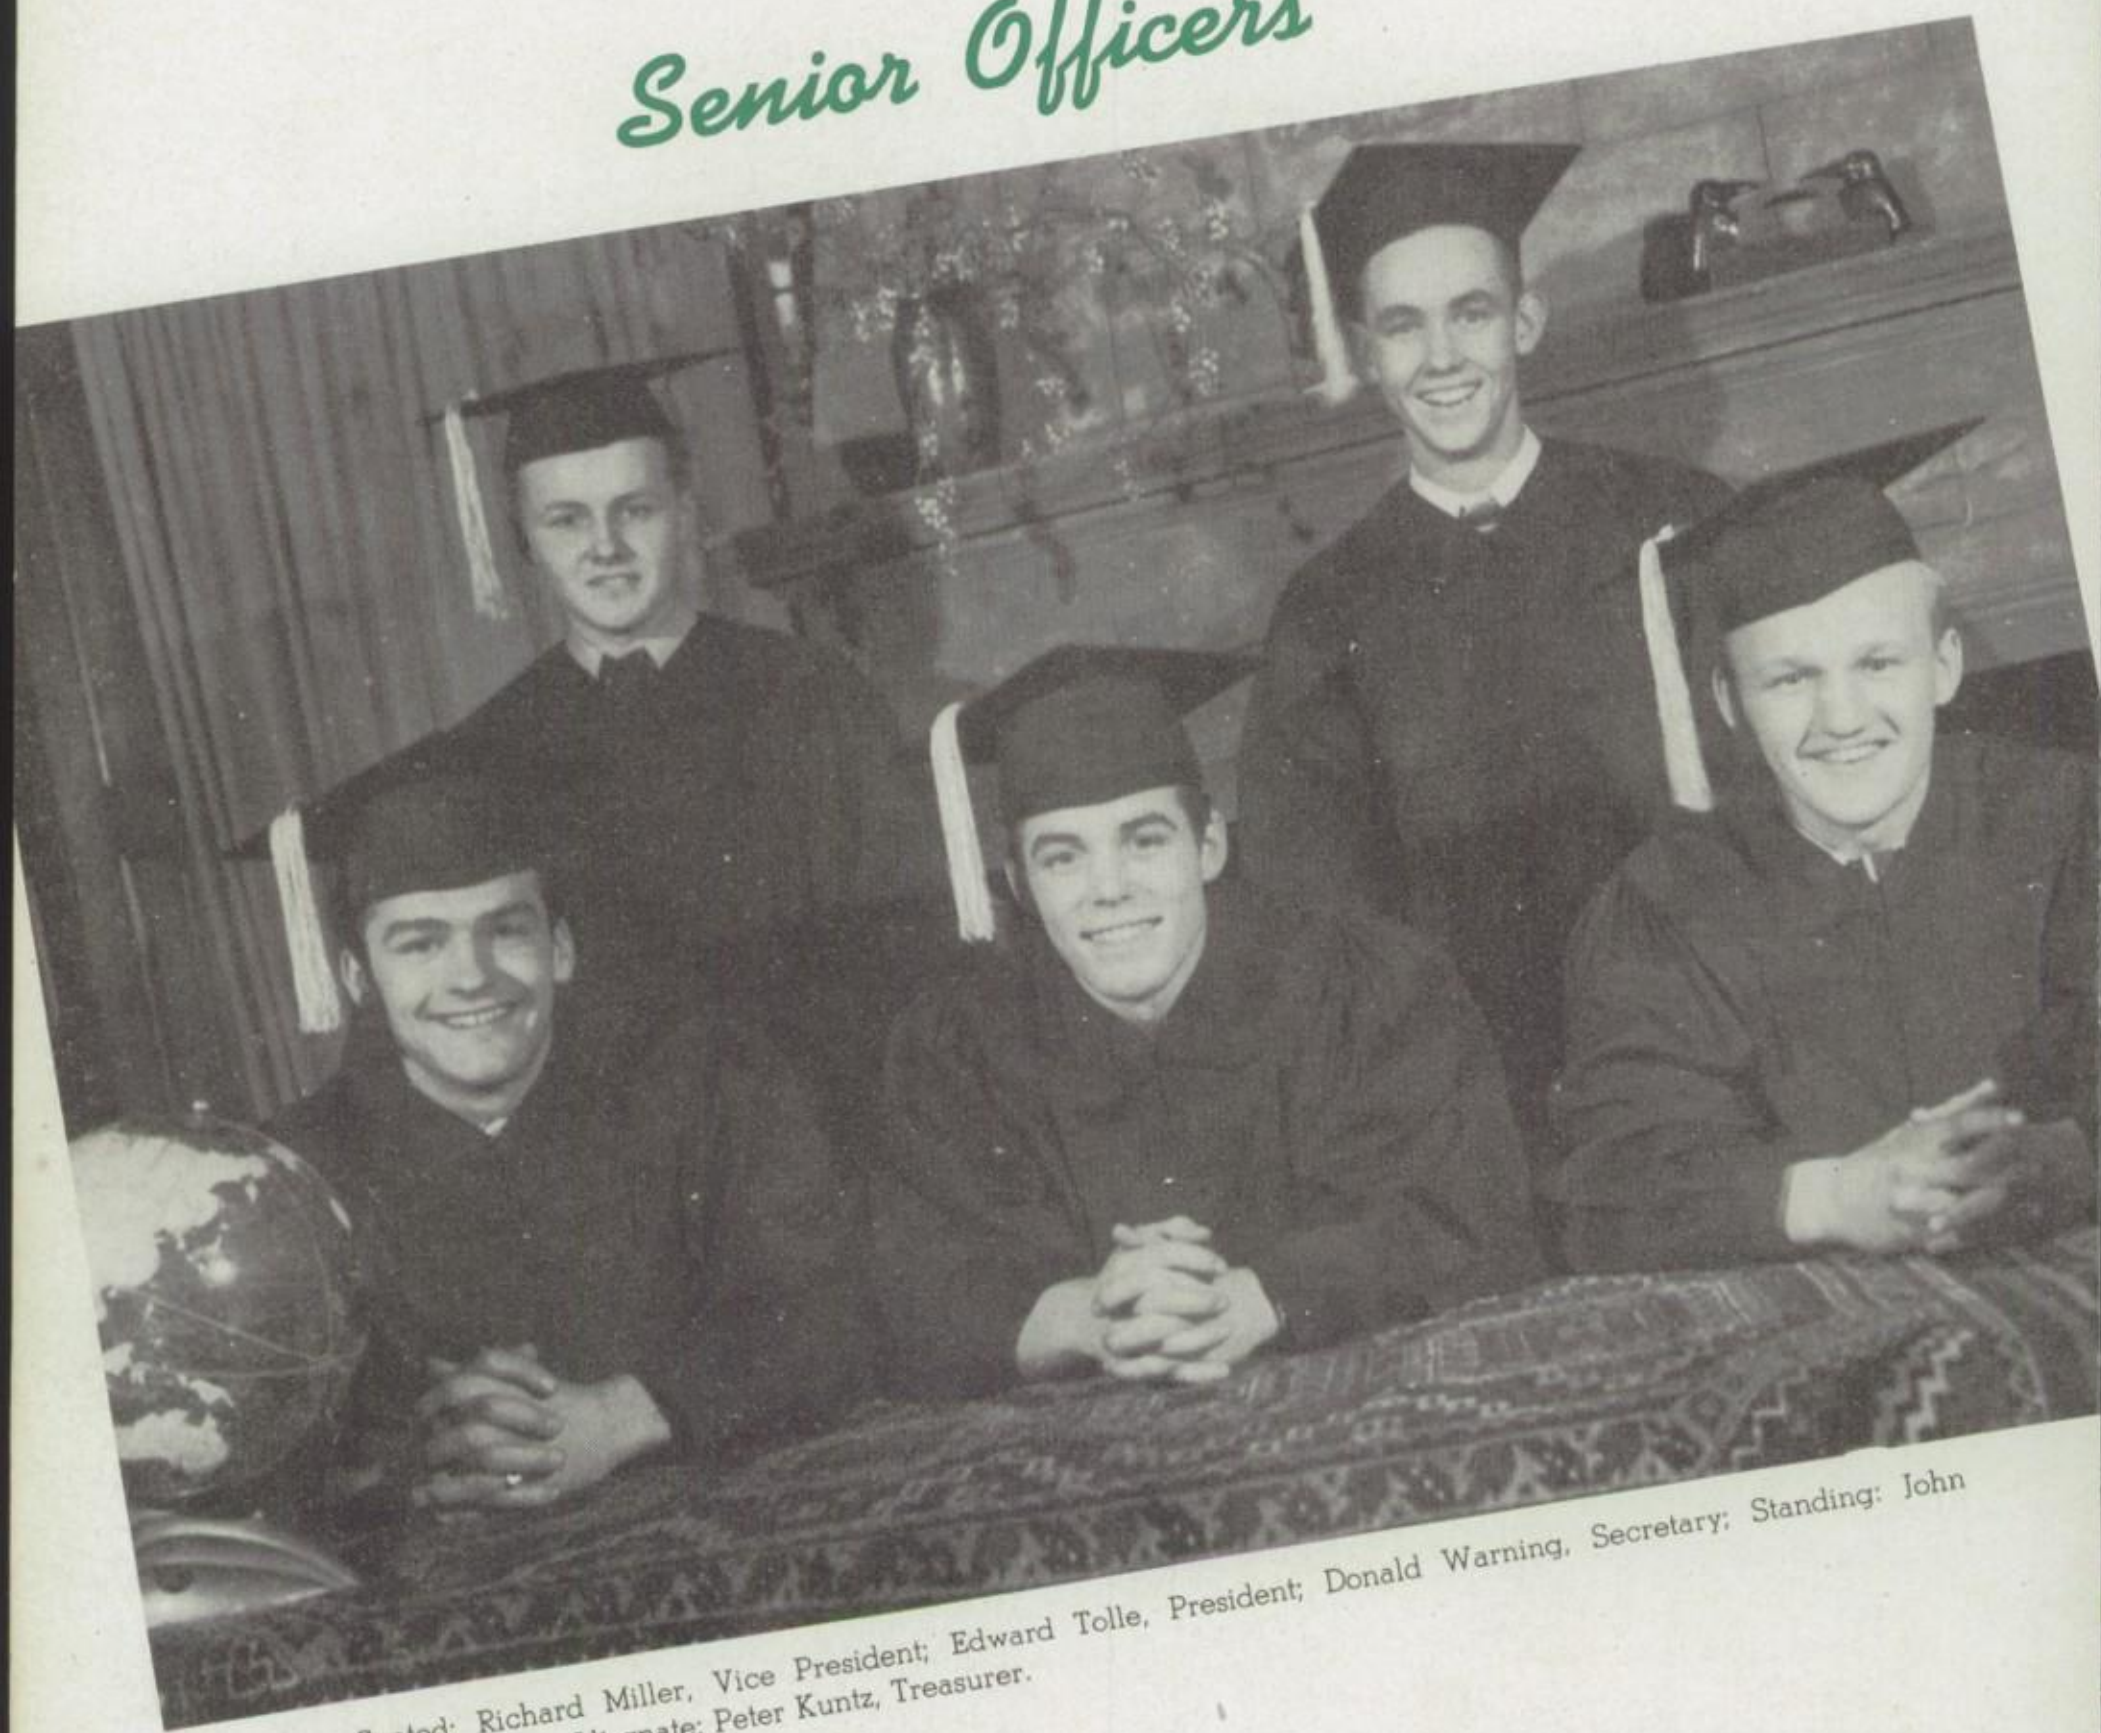

SENIORS

COMMENCEMENT

Academic procession . . . grand march . . . salute . . . proud parents . . . congratulations . . . "Ave atque Vale!" . . . diplomas . . . ribbons . . . parting handclasps. Farewell to four years at Chaminade. A diploma, symbol of scholastic achievement, in the hands of a bewildered graduate means more to the "man of Chaminade". A Catholic education, four years at Chaminade, has won for him more than just a parchment. We have been formed according to the pattern of a Christian gentleman. The marks of an educated being begin and end with character formation. The Chaminade graduate has been formed so that he might live the supernatural life; thinking, judging, and acting constantly and consistently in conformity with his ideal—Jesus Christ, the Son of Mary. Molded into a young man with adequate religious and scholastic training, he will constantly strive to gain success in the future. We, the Seniors of 1946, have been guided on the true road—now the responsibility to remain there lies upon us. His life at Chaminade is as real today as it was four years ago, when he first discovered it. Its undying significance we dedicate under the symbol of the Green and White.

Senior Officers

Seated; Richard Miller, Vice President; Edward Tolle, President; Donald Warning, Secretary; Standing: John Laufersweiler, Alternate; Peter Kuntz, Treasurer.

After a week of campaigning by rival parties, the annual election of senior officers was held. The five senior students elected were a reflection of popular senior choices. The capability of the officers was illustrated in their high scholastic standing and achievements in school activities.

You have proven yourselves to be leaders on field, on court, in labs, with books, through speech, example, personality. And yet there is the future—horizons clouded, at times forboding . . . fear confirmed in hope, hate submersed in love, doubt dissolved in faith. For you are the leaders, to you we look—on you we rely! The inspiration for the better man in the better world of tomorrow.

UNDERCLASSMEN

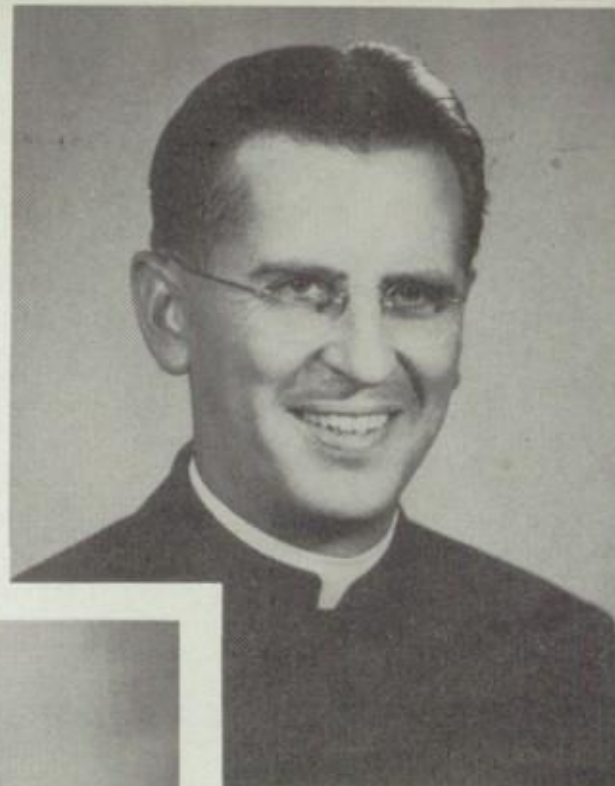

The underclassmen totalling six hundred and eighty have showed their prowess in every field, whether in athletics, scholastic endeavors, or in extra-curricular activities. They have always responded in force in all functions sponsored by the school. We are proud of the future Chaminade.

With their co-operation, a school functions as a unit, religiously, scholastically, athletically, and socially. Many of the underclassmen are looking forward to the day when they too will depart from these halls as "Men of Chaminade". They have already witnessed the graduation of a few senior classes and as a natural reaction, they wonder how they in the future, will be able to bear the burden of such a responsibility. Formerly, they could rely upon the upperclassmen, but now they step forward alone. Be triumph for your God, for country, for your school, and last of all for yourself! This is your challenge, your opportunity! With us—underclassmen! Be better men for better times!

Student Council

This council gives the Chaminade student a voice in the organization of the school. Cooperation with the faculty through student legislation in the religious, scholastic and social activities during the year has made for a very wholesome school spirit. Personal responsibility readily becomes a character-trait of the student council representative; registering student appeals makes for social mindedness.

Forward looking the councillors this year revised the constitutions, amending it so that there would be a more efficient means of presenting student opinion to the faculty.

Near the close of their activities for the scholastic year, the student governors conducted the annual oratorical contest.

Student Congress

On December 6, eleven members of our '46" senior class attended the Student Congress at Fairmont High. The basic ideas of a regular Congress in Washington were carried out and were under the excellent supervision of a very capable parliamentarian. The members took part in the various activities such as party caucuses, committee meetings and the regular sessions.

The purpose of this Congress was to acquaint the seniors of this district with the fundamentals of parliamentary procedure. A Chaminade student, Richard Deininger, received the award for being the best Congressman.

This is the first year that this activity has been undertaken at Chaminade.

Booster Club

The paint flies, the midnight oil burns . . . the Booster Club is at work. A freshly painted sixteen foot sign drops from Soph B into the waiting hands of a junior. He hands it to a Soph, who staggers across the yard with it and hangs it on the rail of the porch.

Whether it be a football rally, basketball rally, banquet, Marianist drive, paper drive, or any other spirited occasion, the Booster Club is always on the job.

Sparked by Brother Joseph Trageser, its director, the club is composed of thirty odd members. Peppy fellows from the three upper divisions, who are willing to work to put the spirit across. These are the Boosters, a great gang of fellows, with bubbling school spirit.

Math Club

"To increase and foster the interested in mathematics . . ." Intent on attaining their goal, the members of the Math Club held active bi-weekly meetings. Because of the interest of the members, the original papers read at the meeting often induced enthusiastic discussions of various mathematical principles.

In January of 1946, the club admitted twenty one pledges, selected because of their scholastic achievements, character and participation in school activities.

LIFE

by Jack Zimmerman

So young,
Yet soon so old.
Today, as a flower
Fresh as a spring bloom.
Now a newly painted picture,
Tomorrow a drab and wrinkled canvas.
Life!
But remember, After tomorrow, life begins!

CORNER

SPRING

by Johnny Lauferweiler

What makes a fellow feel so gay,
As if all cares had flown away?
What makes him feel so grand inside,
As if his soul, which once was tied,
Had broken from its hidden chains,
And now in grateful triumph reigns.
And what makes life, a little lighter?
The morning sun a little brighter?
A single answer solves the thing,
We've once again been blessed with spring.

FALL IN THE WOODS

by Ralph Hammer

To me this is nature at its best,
The golden leaves under my feet,
The crackling twigs at my side;
Natures creatures startled, at my approach,
The beauty of it all!
To me this is nature at its best.
The smell of wood from near camps,
And wild life drinking from the brook
Leaving footprints at its brink.
The fields of golden yellow corn;
The great round pumpkins lying about
Serve as harbingers of the coming holidays.
The clear crisp air!
To me this is nature at its best.

Glee Club

The Freshman and Sophomores have devoted one of their study-periods to the study of chorus singing and elementary harmony; and to the reading of music. The classes numbered about thirty from each of the two divisions. With Brother Robert Springman, we look forward to an excellent glee club from this group.

Projector Club

Features, comedies, war-stories, and geographicals; these are just a few of the many different types of movies shown the entire school year.

Who are the boys behind these 'moments of relaxation'? They are the energetic members of the Projector Club. They man the controls of the projector. They spend many hours in the movie booth. Brother Joseph Buettner, S. M., faculty advisor, has instilled a fine sense of responsibility into these men behind the scenes.

Sound Engineers

Athletic rallies, dramatics, oratory . . . the sound engineers played an integral part in these activities. All recording, microphone set-ups, electrical repairs were capably handled . . . The student demand for recordings of various school affairs has been satisfied by the efficient work of this crew . . .

CAFETERIA STAFF

Cafeteria

To be a better man tomorrow; be a healthy man today. And so, with that thought in mind, the school cafeteria operates under the guiding hand of Bro. William Hildebrand.

The cafeteria staff serves their fellow students well. They face the long lines of mid-day patrons. Their job requires the sacrificing of many study periods each day. To feed one group and prepare for another is their aim. Their services range from serving food to clearing lunch counters and sweeping floors. Theirs was a job well done!

The cafeteria management was recently taken over by Bro. William Hildebrand, who has replaced the late Bro. William Kleuber. He greets us in the morning in the book store. Then again at noon in the cafeteria.

After the short time he has spent here he has proven himself a true friend to the student-body.

Bro. Wm. Hildebrand, S.M.

Library Staff

Do you have? . . . Where will I find? . . . When will you get? . . . Who is the author? . . . These are a few of the questions asked of the members of the library staff. Under the capable guidance of Brother John Verder, S. M., the school librarian, staff members are able to maintain the excellent system now existing in the library. Many and varied are their tasks. Time means nothing to these men. This is one of the many extra-curricular activities which offers opportunities for future leadership.

Band Mothers

Behind the scenes, these devoted mothers work silently, efficiently, to make the green Music makers look their very best whether it be on the gridiron, at the hardwood demonstrations, or on Main Street.

Sponsoring bingos . . . letting out seams . . . financing new pieces . . . new instruments, these are just some ways our band mothers prove their maternal solicitude, proud in the talents of their sons.

Mothers' Club

Mothers, the inspiration behind the actions of every boy! Great tasks they undertook! Success their goal. They sponsored several dances, we'll never forget the annual Christmas Party.

Under the direction of Mrs. Edward O'Hearn, President; Mrs. Frank Mulhern, Vice-President; Mrs. Arthur Tieman, Secretary; and Mrs. W. F. Schmidt, Treasurer, the year was a complete success in every respect.

In appreciation for the opportunities and help that was given to us in our four years at Chaminade, we the seniors of '46', thank you, OUR Mothers.

Fathers' Club

The father's club showed their interest in the school's activities by supporting them wholeheartedly. Under the supervision of its president, Mr. K. Morissey, this organization proved to be one of great value. Each month the fathers of the students met and discussed important issues that arose in the school. The main purpose of this club is to bring a more friendly relationship between the student, teacher, and parent. Interest was kept at a high pace throughout the year, and was shown by the remarkable attendance record. The father's club also sponsors various parties and the proceeds of which were given to the school. Here we see a noble and just institution and we hope that as a Chaminade High School remains there will be a Father's club.

During the past year the news staff had put their utmost effort into assembling the "Chaminade News", our school paper. Page by page it was formed and the product each time was gratifying.

This work serves to give the boys practice in using journalistic jargon. For their efforts they were rewarded each time with more work. But seeing their writing in print and being awarded first place ratings by all three national press associations more than repaid them.

Winning Class, Soph. A

Once again Chaminade's annual Marianist Drive turned out to be a complete success. Led by Anthony Chirco, a senior, who sold 80 subscriptions. The school accounted for a total of 3125 subscriptions. The characteristic was as usual manifest. Individual initiative was a decisive factor of success. Class competitors stimulated interest also. The leading Classes were Sophomore A, B, and F. As a reward many fine prizes were offered to the highest sellers. Each class attaining a goal of 100% received a large Marianist pennant.

Motivation Through

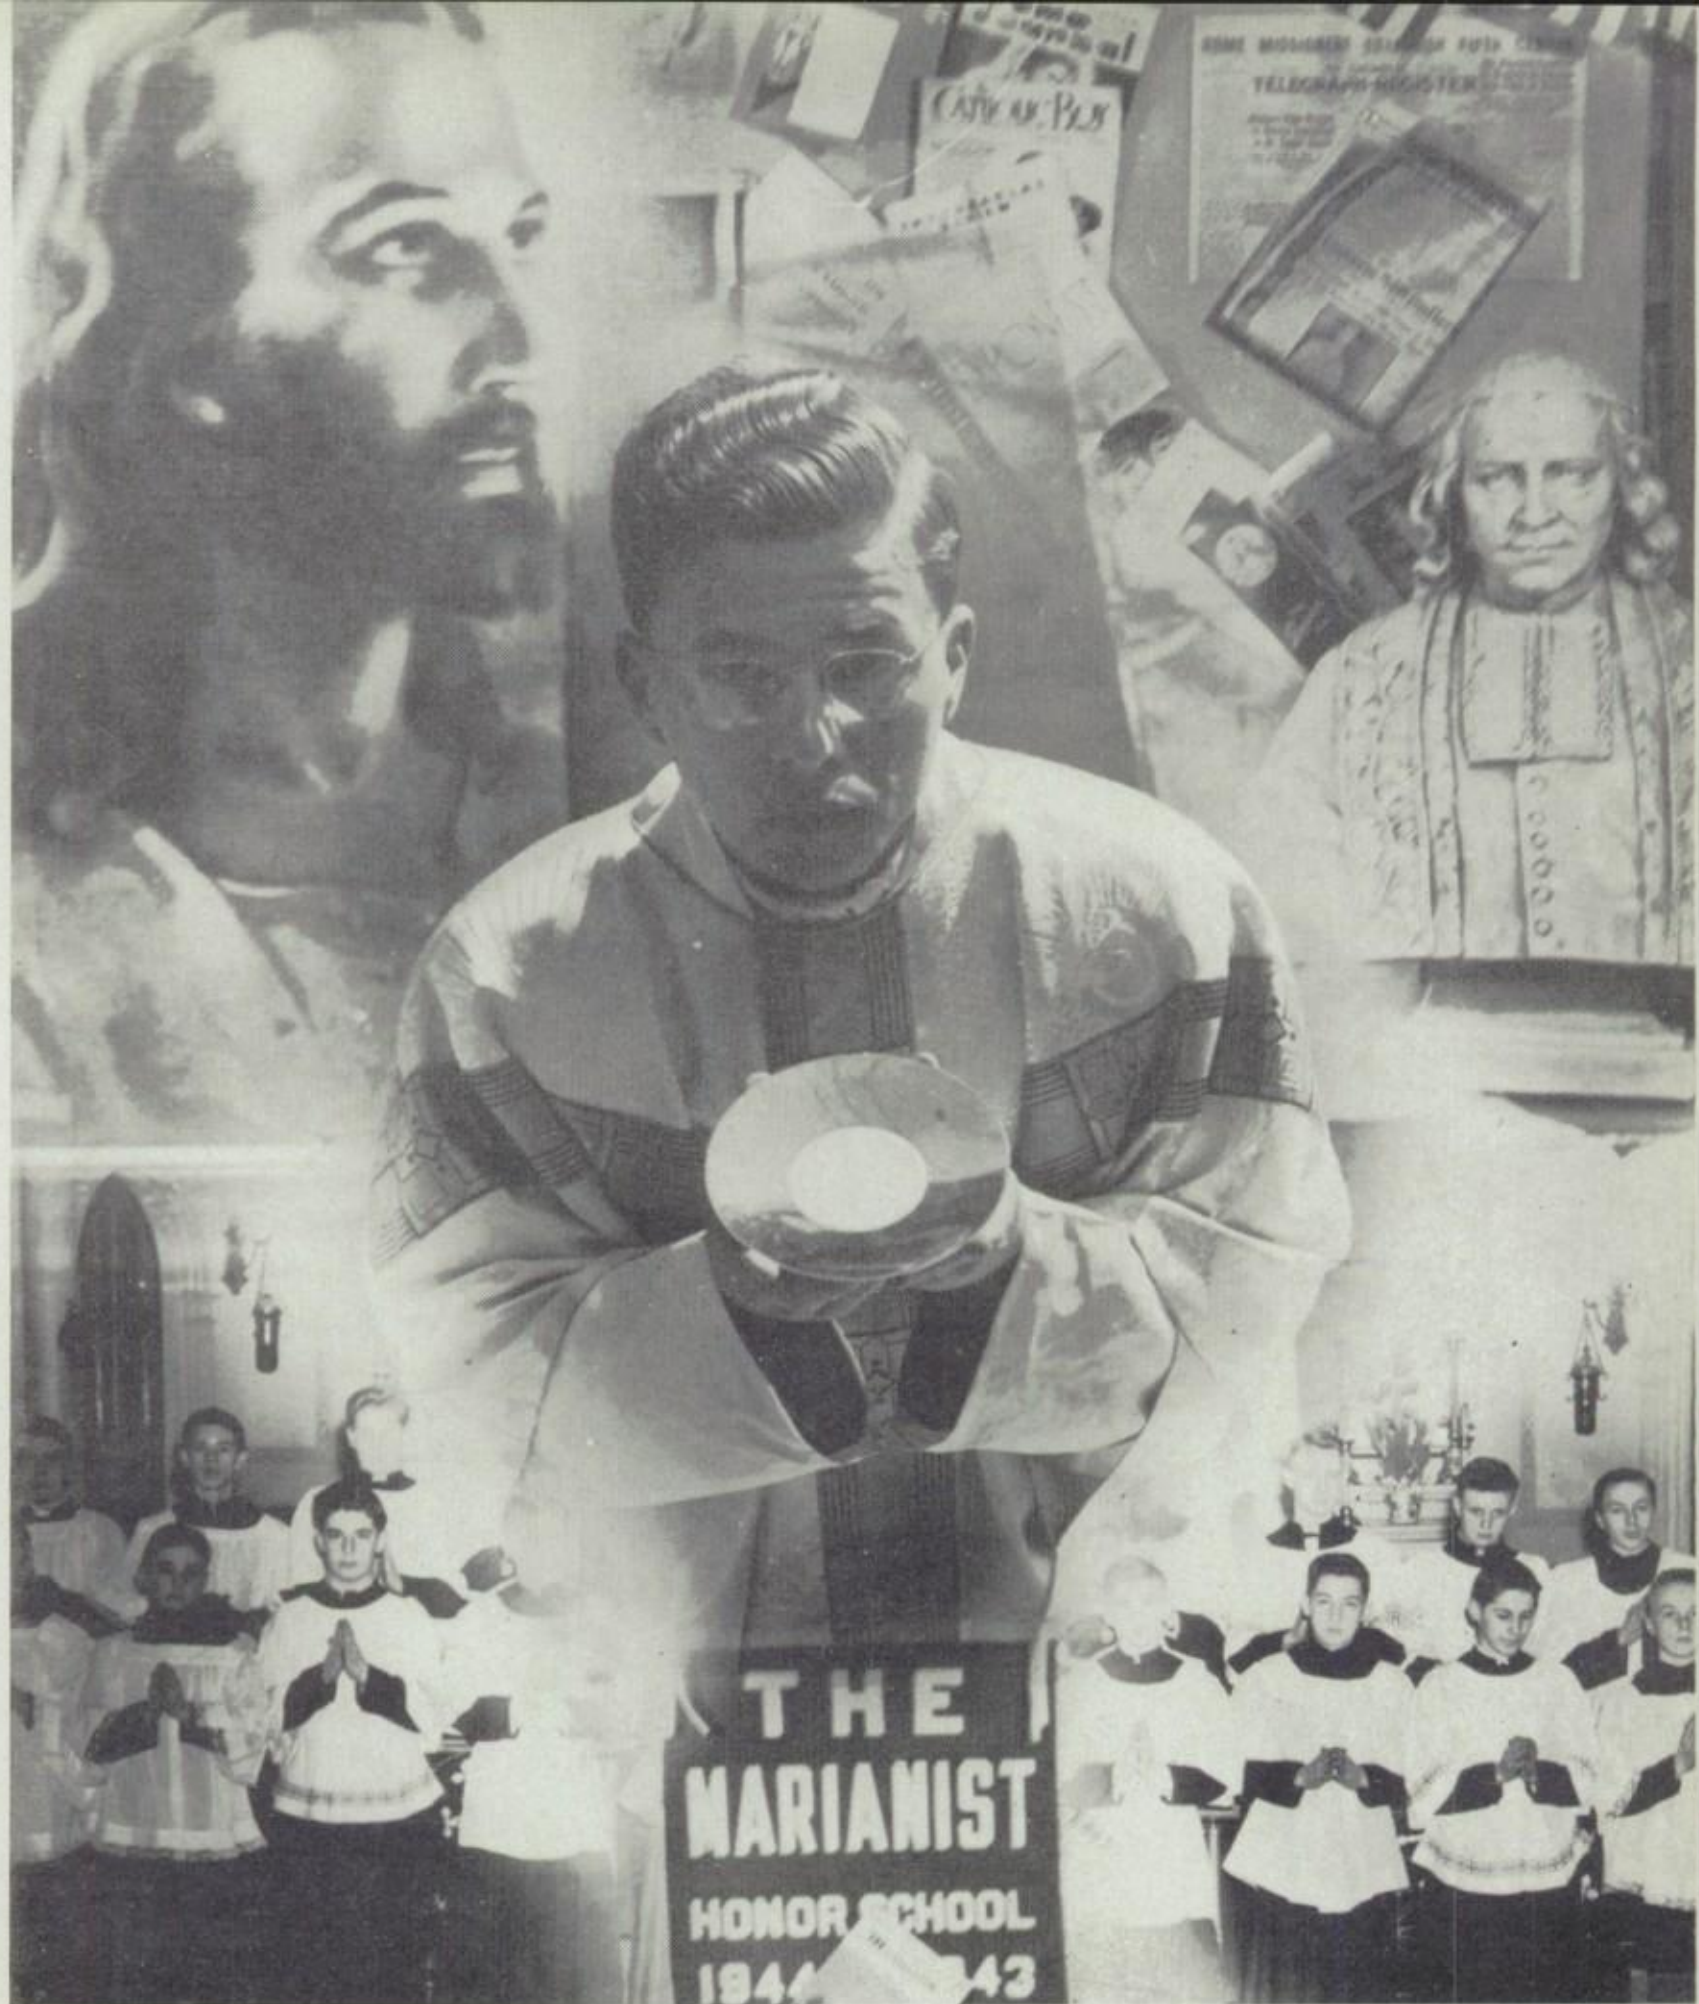

INFANT JESUS OF PRAGUE

Devotion to the Infant of Prague has been fostered this year at Chaminade by the presence of a shrine in the school chapel.

The statue was purchased with contributions given to Brother Julius. It is robed in a gown of pure satin made by the mother of a Brother of Mary from Albany, New York. The ceremonial robe, which is used on all festive occasions, was made by Sister Adeliade, C. PP. S. of the St. Mary Catholic Information Center.

The statue which is known for its marvelous facial characteristics is enclosed in a beautiful case donated by Senior A as a Christmas gift.

RELIGION

Suscipe!

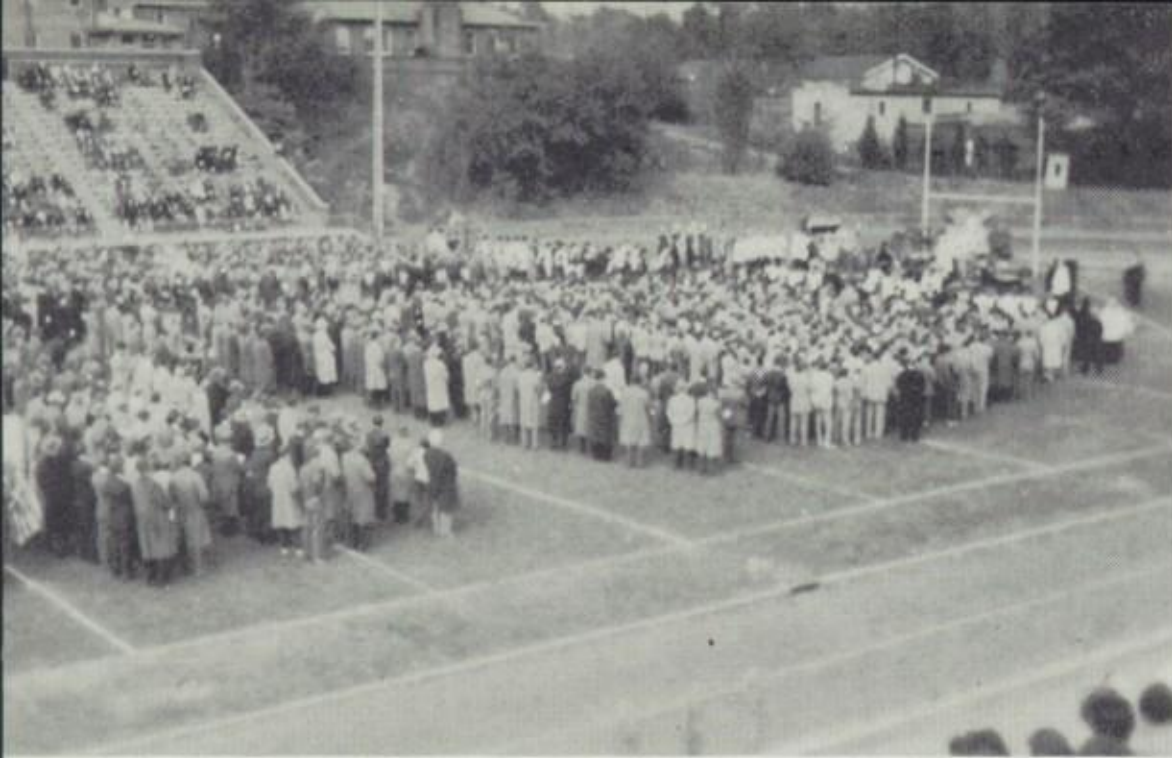

A visit to the Blessed Sacrament . . . the Morning Offering . . . co-offering the Holy Sacrifice . . . the three o'clock prayer—filial piety . . . chanting the VIII Mass . . . religion courses . . . daily opportunities for confession . . . guidance and direction any time. The consolations, the certainty of the Catholic youth . . . He is a man of destiny . . . this man of Chaminade, . . . he strives always to be the supernatural man, determined to fortify himself to form his character so that as another Christ he faces the world of tomorrow.

At Chaminade he is instructed in what he should do! . . . how it can be done! For him the religion course and all the courses in his high school curriculum prove to be the inspiration to those qualities which go to make him a better supernatural man for better times . . . times when he will be the leader . . . the one who will console, and make certain the doubts.

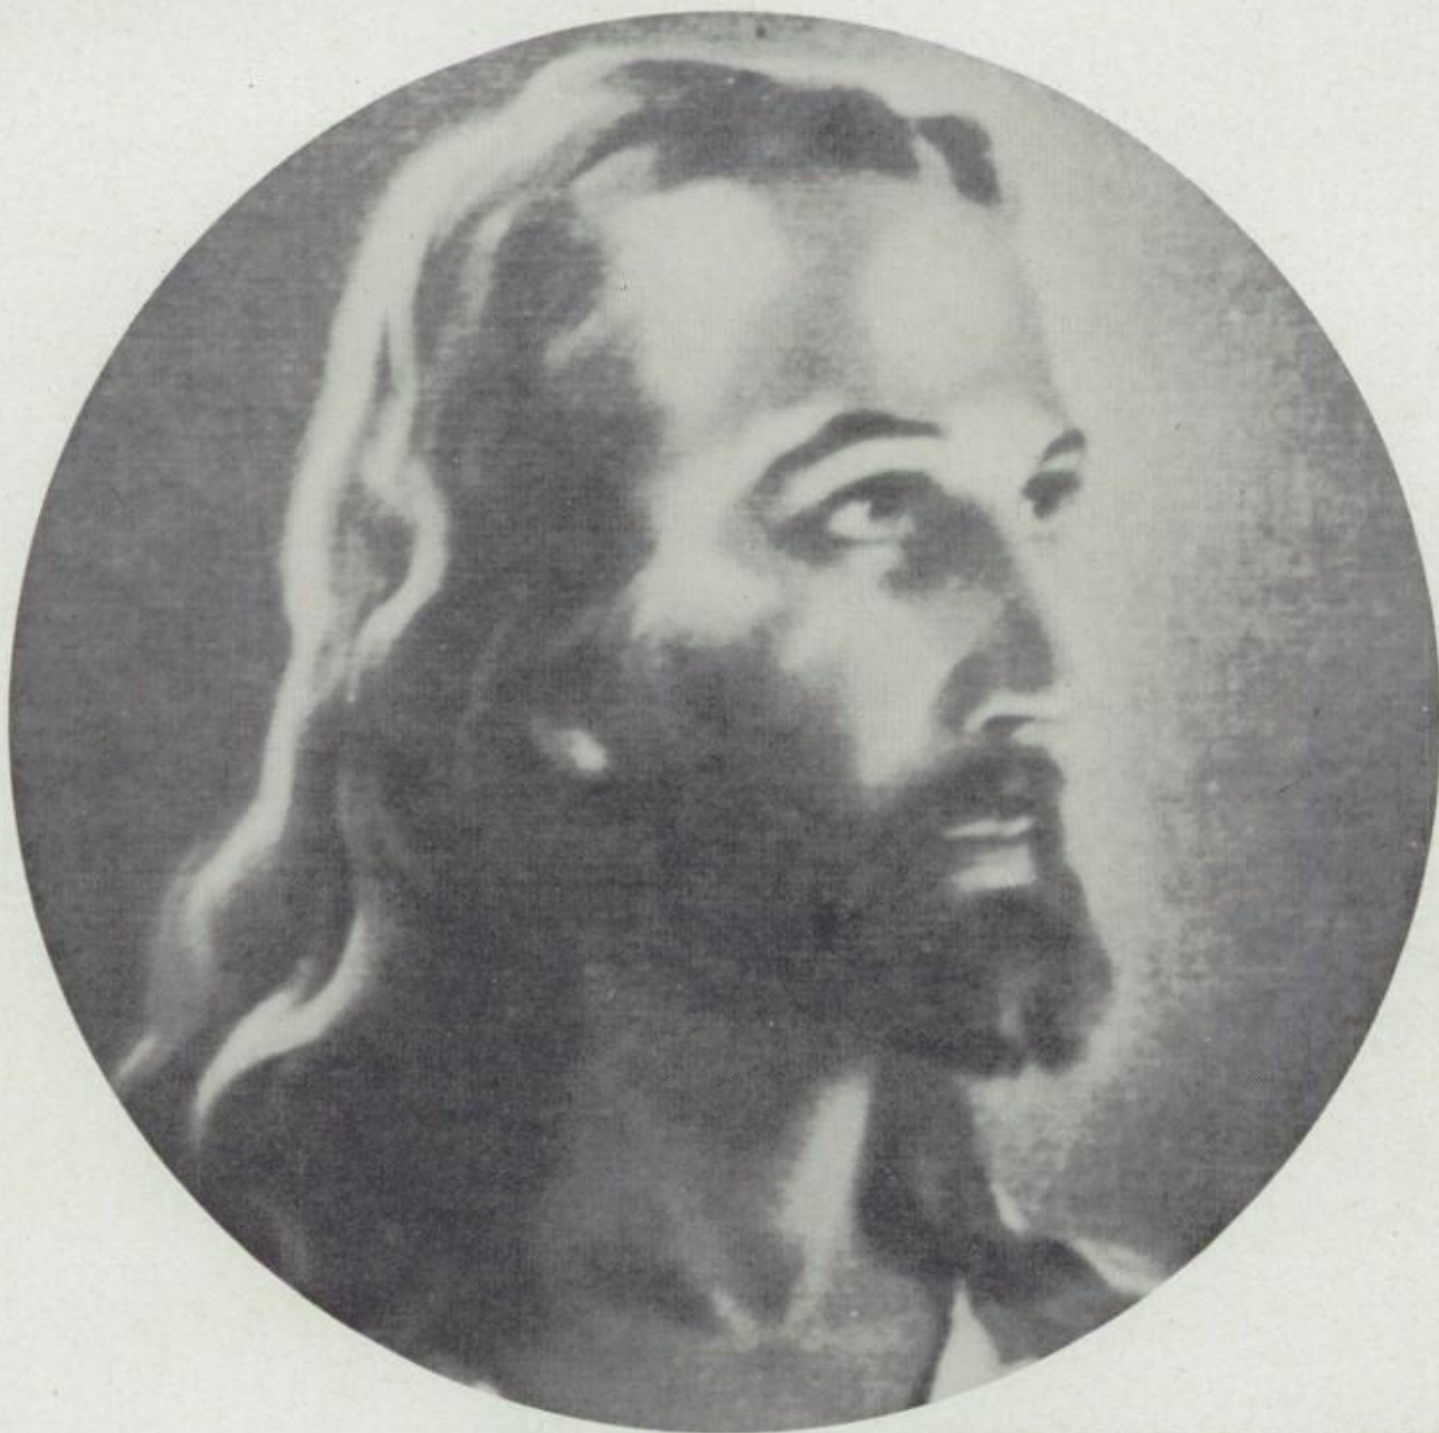

Lourdes Pilgrimage

Hail Mary — Ave — Ave — Ave — On a crisp, snappy fall day the students of Chaminade gathered to honor their Queen and Mother. Our Lady hidden in the rock bound cave listened attentively to her favorite song—The Rosary. Smiling, she voiced her approval of the Benediction bestowed by her Son.

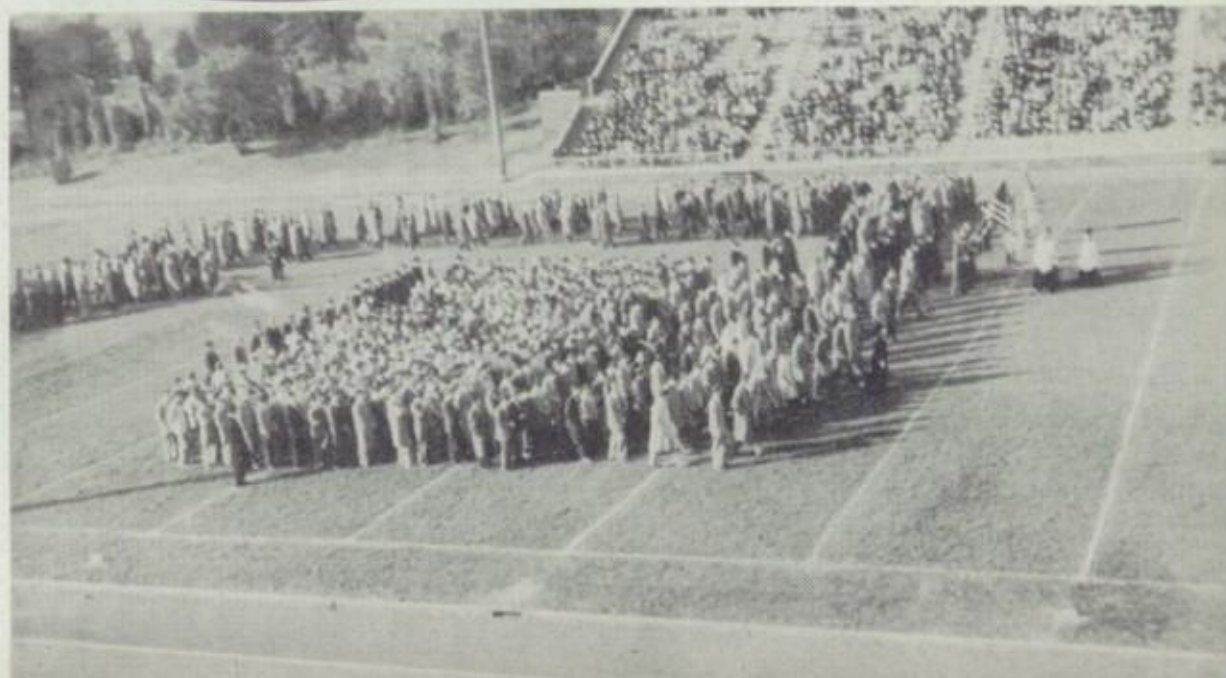

Holy Name Rally

On a typical Sunday afternoon in October the annual Holy Name rally was held at the University of Dayton Stadium. All of the parishes in the city were represented. The procession of the Blessed Sacrament was led by the entire Chaminade student body.

The ceremonies consisted of a sermon on "Christ the Consoler" preached by Rev. John Raucher, S. M. of the Immaculate Conception parish. This was followed by Benediction by Rev. John Sailer. The rally was under the supervision of the right Rev. Monsignor Charles Ertel.

Don Bosco Club

Seeking happiness—eliminating doubts—These are the goals of the members of the Don Bosco Club who have frequently come together to discuss, study, and increase their understanding of the Religious life, the priesthood, and the married state.

Senior C.S.M.C.

The religious fervor of the Chaminade Senior manifested itself, en masse, as the C. S. M. C. unit took upon itself the task of reorganizing the Bishop Thil Conference for this section of Ohio. The first meeting, held here at Chaminade, brought representatives from Minster Catholic, Springfield Central Catholic, Piqua Catholic, St. Bridget, Xenia, and Julienne and St. Joseph's Commercial, both of Dayton.

After the initial meeting, at which the unit was reorganized after its activities had been suspended for a three year interim.

The second meeting of this group, at Julienne High School showed the great possibilities for this Chapter.

The leaders of Chaminade have become the religious pioneers of the Midwest.

Junior C.S.M.C.

This has been a year of work for the C. S. M. C. Junior unit. Action has been the outstanding characteristic of their work, but prayer and sacrifice were hand and hand—fulfilling the three-fold purpose of the C. S. M. C.

"Keep Christ in Christmas" was the slogan for the sale of Christmas cards. They have sponsored a dance to raise funds for the Prom.

Phamphlets have been distributed. Pictures of the Blessed Mother have been collected for the Marian Library at the University of Dayton. The class of '47" deserves the tribute for a year of work.

MARIAN LIBRARY COMMITTEE

Several years ago, plans were made to establish a national Marian Library at the University of Dayton. To assist in this valuable work, a new C.S.M.C. committee was organized among the Juniors of Chaminade. They have successfully contacted art galleries and museums throughout the country in an effort to obtain pictures of the Blessed Virgin.

JUNIOR C. S. M. C.

Keeping the school alive with Catholic Activity is a full-time job for the C. S. M. C. It's activities are the highest means of expression for the group. The Pamphlet Committee, one of the many activities in the C. S. M. C., is a go-getting group, which promotes Catholic information through the distribution of pamphlets and Catholic literature. The members of this organization handle all their own business and plans for action during the scholastic year.

THE FOOD DRIVE

SOPHOMORE PAMPHLET COMMITTEE

In these critical years of our nation great emphasis is being placed on the need of the Catholic press and the truth it conveys to the world. The Sophomore C. S. M. C. has effectively promoted the Catholic press through its pamphlet committee.

The moderators of this committee were Brother Julius May and Brother Joseph Trageser. The committee secured various Catholic publications and distributed them to hospitals, missions, and offices, bringing the Catholic Press before the eyes of the public.

Group Singing

During the course of the year the hard and tedious task of training 800 voices for the singing of the Mass of the Angels in the Georgian Chant of the Church was undertaken by Brother F. Mathues. The group singing was organized as a better-assisting-at-Mass project. The choir is divided into two parts for the singing of the Gloria and Credo and is banded together for the rest of the Mass. We hope that this great project shall be carried on in later years.

Better Men Physically

Athletics

Line buck—reverse—off tackle—pass—unnecessary roughness—penalty—substitution—end around—touchdown—Victory Chaminade.

This is the game of life—gains, penalties, and then ultimate victory or defeat. For one hundred and fifty Seniors, this game is drawing to a close. For them, it is fourth and goal.

When they first entered Chaminade, four years ago, and became "Men of Chaminade," they were presented with a real challenge. "How can a school without a gym produce athletes?" This was the challenge.

The game opened with the wise, crafty world kicking off to an inexperienced but determined group of one hundred and fifty "Men of Chaminade". It was first and ten. Then they bucked the line, they tried reverses—they went off tackle, they passed, and then it happened, near the close of the half. They became aware of the fact that they had no gym and hardly any of the facilities of other schools. A crisis had arisen. Yes they faltered—this was the penalty.

Then, they rested and waited for the whistle that would begin the second half. Back into the game they went. Yes, they were discouraged, because they were told they could never win this game of life. It was too big for them. Yet, as they marched back onto the field, something invaded the hearts and minds of our warriors.

It was more than a substitute, for the battle would not have been complete without each individual playing and striving towards one goal—victory.

Spirit had entered the game. Immediately, a change came over the "Men of Chaminade". They began to fight back; they had realized a will to win, and it began pushing and fighting with them. A gym to practice in, a field to play in means nothing when you are opposed by a team which has the will to win.

Then it was fourth and goal. The end was skirted, and it meant—"Touchdown! Chaminade! "A triumphant finish to a glorious battle.

This is the spirit, which we have gained in athletics, and it is here to stay. We will continue trying, with that will to win, to attain as successful a year as one hundred and fifty graduating "Men of Chaminade" have completed. We will continue producing "Better Men for Better Times".

The National Athletic Scholarship Society

The National Athletic Scholarship Society was organized in 1925 with a four-fold purpose: to foster high scholarship; to stimulate a desire for balanced training; to elevate the ideals of sportsmanship; and to develop more outstanding leaders, in the secondary schools of the country. The qualifications for the membership are: to win an athletic monogram, being above the school scholastic average, and possess a high type of citizenship and sportsmanship.

The All City Players

Climaxing Chaminade's most successful grid season, six of its stars were chosen by local papers for the Dayton's all-star eleven. Their brilliant performance during the season gained for them this great honor.

Ed Leschansky paced the rest of the city's guards by pulling down the most votes for his position. Since Chaminade is noted for its outstanding linesmen, Ed most certainly upheld that tradition.

Joe Koepnick not only ranked the best in Dayton, but also gained all-state honors as an end. His giant build and break-away speed made him an outstanding pass receiver and defensive end.

The duties of a work-horse center were handled excellently by Kenny Sommer. Kenny was a real stalwart in the center of Chaminade's great line. Coach Faust regards Sommer one of the best centers Chaminade ever had.

At tackle Chaminade was represented by Lou Bolton. Lou's mammoth frame and do-or-die spirit was a real inspiration to the rest of his team-mates. He was also a bulldozer for Chaminade's fleet-footed backs.

Bob Pfander flanked the other end of the all-star eleven. Bob gave many an opposing back plenty of trouble on end around plays. He was also a great pass receiver and contributed well to the scoring column.

Ed Tolle, Chaminade's only senior back was elected an all-star halfback. His ability in broken field running and amazing speed broke the hearts of many opposing secondary men.

By unanimous vote the all-star fullback position went to Chaminade's "Doc Blanchard" Johnny Schneider. He had amazing power on line plunges and could also move on off tackle plays.

Cheerleaders

The throbbing cheers of 850 students, the spirit of Chaminade, and a fight to victory, were evident at rallies and games. With an eye for equalling the activity of the athletic squads, eight men, sang, shouted and jumped their way to success, in organizing the greatest team of cheerleaders at Chaminade. Always there, bursting their lungs, leading the cheers in stirring up the enthusiasm of the student-body and cheering the EAGLES to victory.

Frosh Basketball

For the second consecutive year, the Chaminade yearlings captured the Frosh cage title of Dayton. The youthful Eagles copped nineteen out of twenty games during the season, fifteen out of sixteen in league competition.

Smooth team play and speedy play-making featured the '46 first-year team. Though not particularly tall, this group played a good rebound game. Passing and ball-handling show great promise for future years of competition.

Mr. Roland Myers directed the frosh team. Among the promising prospects for the future are Bob Koepnick, high point man; left-handers Carl Yung and Pat Maloney; diminutive speedster, Jim Mack; and lanky Dick Wall. These lads will be heard from in coming years.

Golf

Golf Pros in the making. Such was the consensus of golf enthusiasts who watched our link squad advance to attain eighth rating in the Ohio High School Golf Tournament.

The Ludlow Streeters had a fine season in 1945 winning five matches and tying one while losing but two in the entire year.

The final match in the district tournament was a true thriller as the Eagle golfers defeated Fairmont by one point qualifying for the State Tournament in Columbus.

The five students who paced our team to victory are all back again getting in shape for the new Dayton Daily News City Golf League.

The Eagles home course in this newly composed league for 1946 will be Walnut Grove Country Club.

Bowling

Bang . . . Clatter . . . Crash!

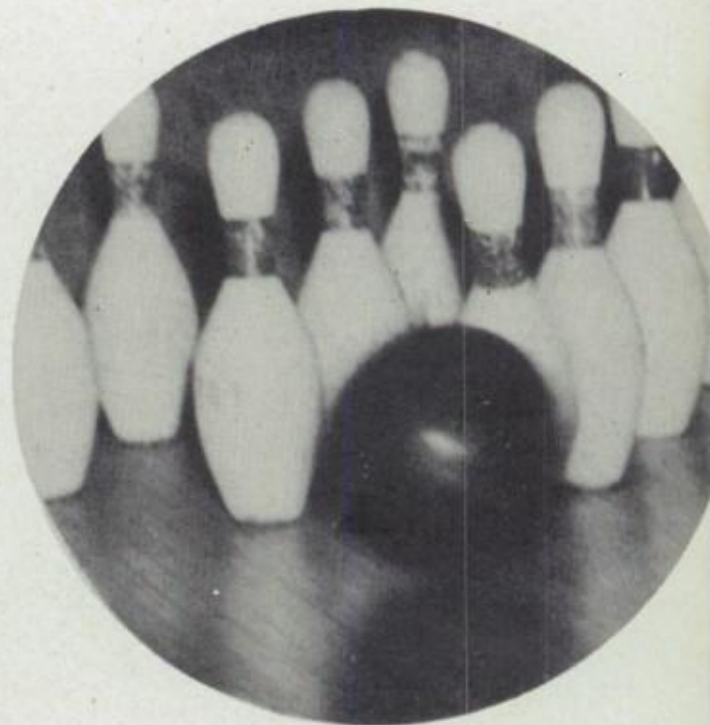

Chaminade's Intramural Keglers had just started their 1946 Bowling Season. All 16 teams were sending pins in all directions.

Officers for the year were Seniors George Smith, President; Ralph Hammer, Vice President; Donald Tangemen, Treasurer; and Thomas Seufert, Secretary.

Soon the high scores started rolling in. Those with a score of 200 were made honorary members of the 200 Club.

On Sunday April 7 and 14 the first annual School Bowling Tournament was held with prizes being awarded in the five man team, double and single events.

The season officially ended with a banquet and entertainment at the school.

Chaminade Fencing Team

Chaminade's fencing team, bolstered by the return of several letterman, had a short but successful season. The success was registered in many practice games, but the lone season game was lost to Cincinnati University by the score of seven matches to nine matches. The team led by the brilliant fencing of the Link brothers made it tough for the competition throughout the year. They were ably helped by very good reserves. Under the supervision of the Dayton Fencing Club, they showed their prowess in that field. Positive success is assured with such capable stalwarts as Stoll, Moorman, Johnson, and a host of others returning next year.

Strike Up The Band

This year's band, one of the most outstanding in the school's history, played at all the games of the Eagles' victorious football season and at various basketball games. Due to the illness of Brother Robert Springman, Brother Terence Leazer took over the duties of director of the band until the former was able to resume his position as director. The band exhibited technique too in a Victorious year. One of the highlights of the band's activities for this year were its trek to Piqua—a brilliant performance at a memorable game. Outstanding too was its performance at the football banquet honoring Chaminade's victorious grid heroes.

Class History

Fresh from grade school, we entered Chaminade—one hundred and ninety-five strong. As the stained glass doors closed behind us, our footsteps first re-echoed along the corridors that would eventually become so familiar.

Bewildered but game, we plunged into studies, sports and drives. At our first pep rallies, we heard about the Chaminade School Spirit so strongly in evidence among the upperclassmen.

A basketball squad represented our class. Though victorious in only two games, the team laid foundations for future achievements on the hardwood.

When our first year was ended, we all felt that we had earned the right to be called "the boys from Chaminade."

Sophmores! Cocky but spirited, we returned for our second year. Depletions in our ranks were neutralized by newcomers from Sacred Heart and Franklin.

Athletics boomed. The future grid greats of '45 began to play already as a unit. Our frosh cagers became the Reserve squad. Chaminade shared the football and basketball titles this year. Our new cage coach, Mr. Jos. DiMatteo, proved brilliantly capable.

This was our big drive year: Turkey Raffle, Paper Drive etc. Our division paced the school. And we crossed the divide to the upper classes.

September, 1944. Upperclassmen at last! The armed forces made in roads into our class. We now had one-hundred and sixty-one members.

Continued interest in athletics. Our hoopsters captured the basketball title. Our golfers went to the State Finals—four Juniors among them. We had to settle for runner-up in football. Time dragged slowly this year. Dances and the Annual Prom aroused interest and provided enjoyment. We had branched out into a variety of activities. These fitted us for a strenuous Senior year—as we were soon to discover.

Our last and happiest year! One-hundred forty-eight fellows strove to finish the job begun four autumns previous.

The draft continued to dwindle our numbers, although some veterans back from the wars joined our ranks.

This year of 1945-1946 was a truly great sports year. The Eagle footballers copped city, district, and state laurels. Our basketball stalwarts won Chaminade's a third consecutive city cage title, and went to the State quarter-finals.

Year-book, minstrel, and graduation provided the concluding excitement of our highschool days at Chaminade.

From one hundred ninety-five, our class has dwindled to one hundred forty-five. Although smaller in numbers, we are stronger in spirit than the Freshman class of '42-'43.

Regretfully we leave Chaminade. But we are ready to face whatever shall challenge our future. We are ready to take our places as better men for better times.

WHERE SUCCESS BEGINS...

Out of Today's schools must come the leaders of Tomorrow's world . . . the pace-setters of our civic, business, and industrial advancement.

Chaminade High School has given you, as it has thousands before you, the foundation for important responsibility that you will some day be asked to assume in your community.

The records at NCR through the years show that hundreds of our employees have received their education in Dayton's schools, and have created through their school work the basis of future success.

The National Cash Register Company

IN APPRECIATION
